

Exciting news! From RI Skin Doc – Dr. AmyLynne Frankel has joined RI Skin Doc in Cranston...

RI Skin DOC

Dr. Ellen Frankel of RI Skin Doc is pleased to announce that Dr. AmyLynne Frankel has joined the skin practice of RI Skin Doc in Cranston, RI. “ I’m so excited to announce that my daughter, Dr. AmyLynne Frankel, MD. has joined our SkinDoc team. Her experience and knowledge will provide our patients with the best care and attention.”

Biography of Dr. AmyLynne Frankel

Dr. Frankel earned her Medical Degree at the University of Vermont College of Medicine, where she also completed a Fellowship in Pathology. She subsequently completed her Dermatology training at the prestigious Mount Sinai Hospital Dermatology Residency Program in New York City, where she was Chief Resident her final year. While at Mount Sinai, Dr. Frankel also completed a Clinical Dermatopharmacology Fellowship and ran the Clinical Trials Unit for the Dermatology Department at Mount Sinai.

On completion of her training, Dr. Frankel established a successful medical dermatology practice for Southern Maine Health Care, which included a Phototherapy center. Dr. Frankel has a special interest in skin cancer and skin cancer surgery, as well as treating a wide array of medical dermatoses such as psoriasis, atopic dermatitis and acne. She moved to Hawaii for a few years before deciding to come home to Rhode Island to practice in this community.

Dr. Frankel looks forward to providing comprehensive skin care to her patients by providing access to cutting-edge treatments including dermatologic surgery and laser treatments for psoriasis, vascular lesions, precancerous lesions and photodamage.

Dr. Ellen H. Frankel:

My practice is composed of a wide range of patients, and I have a special interest in pediatric and cosmetic dermatology. My office staff and I make a special effort to put children at ease in the office, as evidenced by the separate pediatric examining room and waiting room furniture with toys and books designed to make them feel comfortable.

My medical practice offers general skin care and treatments of various illnesses. Cosmetic and medical procedures are offered in our Rejuvaderm MediSpa office. Call us at 401.944.SKIN or fill out our contact form to request an appointment.

All of my attention is focused on good patient care, be it the child or the young at heart. I give each patient plenty of time for a thorough analysis of their problems.
